Project name: jawhara (جوهرة)

Project Overview:

Jawhara is a mobile application that supports women who run home-based food businesses by bringing them together on one platform.

The app allows women to showcase their homemade meals, reach more customers, and grow their projects in a simple and safe way.

Jawhara offers a wide variety of homemade dishes prepared with care, along with a delivery service that ensures fast and reliable orders.

In addition, the app includes a special section for healthy meals, designed and supervised by professional nutritionists to meet different dietary needs.

Through Jawhara, users can easily order homemade food, while women entrepreneurs gain a trusted space to sell their products, increase their income, and achieve financial independence.

Jawhara is more than a food app it is a platform that empowers women and promotes healthy, homemade food.
